

Personal Professional Development On the Road To Reno

The Information Literacy Core states we should “continuously update personal competencies in information literacy, learning and teaching, information access and delivery, administration and supervision, technology utilization and other areas to fulfill the requirements of a professional position.” Come to find out where to find professional development opportunities for both elementary and secondary. ALSO--information and discussion about UELMA trip to the AASL National Convention in Reno October 2007.