

Currently Reading Program

Purpose: to encourage conversation about good books among students, teachers and staff.

1. Send around a signup sheet at faculty meeting. Have those who want to participate write down the book they are currently reading.
2. Create posters (see sample poster) and post by each teacher's door.
3. Send a thank you email to participants explaining that they need to drop you an email when their poster needs to be updated.
4. Keep posters updated and listen for comments.

My experience: I have had many teachers who did not initially sign up come to me and request a poster by their door. One student said to me, "I didn't think teachers read stuff like that. I thought they just read text books and stuff."
